A magical gift box full of ideas, findings , community quotes and coding spaces.

The group task was to "design and built" a meaningful and unique gift –it became an analogue physical AND digital accessible community driven functional virtual think tank for interdisciplinary IT:U core values.

So if one is asked: What is a unique and meaningful gift for you personally? What would you say, design or built? For this project group it is the requirement and combination of rotational functionality, everyday use, personalization, transparency, inclusive, motivation, inspiration, magical, humour, lightness, intelligence, individual as well as group space and community exchange.

You'll find it desk ready, appealing, recognizable as well as memorable and compact.

Its for you from IT:U via Hans (Wolfgang's) Lab.
